HUMAN RESOURCE MANAGEMENT

*“You are not what has happened to you.
You are what you choose to become.”*

– Chuck Norris

Josefina comes from immigrant parents. She is one of seven siblings and is immensely proud to say that she is a first-generation college student. She has two kids, a daughter and a son who is autistic. She decided to come back to school to show them that no matter how long something may take, it is still achievable if you put in the challenging work and dedication. Her family is her inspiration to keep moving forward. She is also proud to say that while at SAC she made both the Dean’s List and the President’s List.
